PIKEVILLE

Venerable Man Passes Away.

T. J. Lyons, 84 years of age, died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Floyd Spence, at Heiler recently. The deceased was the father of R. H. Lyons, a popular business man of Pikeville. The remains were taken to the old home at Wellington, Menifee county, for funeral and interment.—News.

Raided $16,000.

Pikeville is contributing about $16,000 to the million dollar educational fund being raised by the Presbyterians of Kentucky. The school at this place under Dr. Record has done great service for mountain boys and girls. The quota for Pikeville was $5000, but the amount raised was double that, which is an expression of the appreciation the people have for the Pikeville college. $50,000 will go to that school from the fund.

GRIFFITH CREEK

Roscoe Pennington and family have returned from a visit at Ashland which was extended on account of Mr. Pennington's little daughter contracting pneumonia on the trip which was made in an automobile.

Letter received from Supt. of C. & O. Ry. advises local agent that as soon as arrangements can be made to carry parcel post on No. 37 and No. 33, he will make Gallup a regular stop for those trains. Our creek people who now get off at Chapman get home through Gallup by road and water routes.

Poster Pennington came up from Ashland and spent Christmas with friends here.

W. T. (Toke) Childers has rented the Snyder place and will move to it this first of the year.

We are glad to note that the near future holds hopes for at least fair service on the Big Sandy division. When it comes that ladies have to stand in the smoking car of the "such as they are" cars, I think the dutchman was right when he said, "Enough of anything is too much." We were jammed like sardines recently on No. 33. Standing room was at a premium. I heard a young man say, "I wish the main line had another old knacker out car they didn't need."

Victor Back is home with an attack of bronchitis.

Influenza is among us again. Several have it.

Mrs. Scott Thompson left Saturday for Beaver, Ohio, to spend Christmas with her parents there. Mr. Thompson suffered an attack of influenza and is in a critical condition at his home.

Mrs. James Hunley is quite sick with flu.

D. Harold Vaughan was in Ashland Saturday. He will resume his old position with the Solway Company (the first of the year). He was operator of the chemical department of their Ashland plant for a number of years.

Uncle Josh Sammons and wife came up from Kenova and spent Christmas with home folks.

Crit Thorp and family of Belvoir on Pond creek spent Christmas here the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bailey.

A party of friends of D. Harold Vaughan are expected here today from Catlettsburg. The rest of the week will be spent here hunting, after which all will return to the gate city where Mr. Vaughan resumes his old duties with the Solway people.

MUTT.

IN MEMORY

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Berry and called from their home their darling son, Robert. He was a bright and lovely boy and loved by everyone who knew him. He was shot November 30th and lived two weeks. All was done that kind friends could do for him to keep him with us, but God saw best to take him.

Robert was converted the day before he died and clasped his hand and said he was going home with Jesus. He told his mother before he died that he couldn't stay here that he was going to meet his brother that had gone on before and he prayed a prayer for his brothers and sisters that they may be turned from their sins before it is too late. We have no doubt but that Robert is resting on the paradise with God. He bore his suffering patiently until the end and then he fell asleep in the arms of his blessed Jesus.

Robert was born April 11, 1905, departed this life December 14, 1922, age 17 years, 8 months and 4 days. He leaves father, mother, three brothers and three sisters and a host of friends and relatives to mourn his loss.

Sleep on sweet brother and take thy rest. God called thee home. He thought it best. A little flower of love that blossomed but to die, transplanted now above to bloom with God on high.

YATESVILLE

A more beautiful Christmas your scrible has no recollection of. The weather was ideal, the mercury being 60 above zero at noon. They had a beautiful Christmas tree at the school house on Saturday night and a fine time was had. Mr. Elkins, our deputy sheriff, acting as Santa Claus. We are glad to note that the poor class of little children was not forgotten in the way of presents.

Miss Gipsy Blankenship, our teacher, deserves much credit on account of the affair, she being the main power in getting the thing up and having it carried on.

Ernest Jordan who died at Fallsburg last Friday was brought to the graveyard at Wm. Savage's for interment on Saturday. Ernest was a good boy and was well liked by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and one infant child who have the deepest sympathies of the community.

Willie Woods of Vessie passed thru here one day last week with a nice drove of cattle to be shipped to down the river market.

From the number of guns we have heard today from all directions the Mollie Cottontail has certainly suffered.

Curt Ramey and others with their hounds are giving the foxes a great deal of trouble these pretty nights.

The sickness of our neighborhood is on the increase. A great many children and grown people have something like the "flu."

A little girl of Frank Newsom's died Saturday and was buried yesterday (Sunday).

R. F. Crank received a message that his brother, John Crank, of Normal, was at the point of death and left on the next train for his brother's bedside.

Say, Mr. Editor, send us the NEWS once more and we will excuse you for the balance of this year.

and I then remembered my mother used to take it. After the first bottle I was better. I began to flesh up and I regained my strength and good, healthy color. I am feeling fine. I took twelve bottles (of Cardui) and haven't had a bit of trouble since. Thousands of other women have had similar experiences in the use of Cardui, which has brought relief where other medicines had failed. If you suffer from female ailments, take Cardui. It is a woman's medicine. It may be just what you need. At your druggist's or dealer's.

Poor Feed Cuts Down Winter Crop of Eggs

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Three-fourths of the hens on Kentucky farms would lay more eggs in the winter if they were fed right, according to J. R. Smyth, poultry specialist of the College of Agriculture. This has an important bearing on the profits that farmers make from their flocks because eggs are higher in price in the winter than they are at other times of the year. The flock that produces a large number of eggs during the winter months will pay far more profit on a yearly basis than one that yields the largest number of eggs in the spring and summer months.

"Experiments that have been carried out on the college farm and tests that have been made by farmers of the state show that some form of animal protein, such as milk, meat scrap or tankage, is necessary if hens are to lay the most eggs in winter. If as much milk as a gallon a day for every 30 hens can be had, it is not necessary to feed a dry mash containing this protein. A grain mixture made of 70 parts of corn and 30 parts of oats or wheat should be given along with the milk. It probably will be best for farmers to use wheat along with the corn this winter as Kentucky oats this year turned out to be of poor quality. Ground limestone also should be kept before the hens at all times as this is needed for making egg shells.

"On farms where milk cannot be had, a dry mash made of 40 pounds of corn meal, 20 pounds of bran, 20 pounds of shorts and 20 pounds of tankage that contains at least 60 per cent protein should be used to supply the protein. This mixture should be kept before the hens at all times and a pound of the grain mixture fed for every pound of mash that the hens eat. It is best to feed one-third of the grain in the morning and the other two-thirds at night in a litter of straw or ten to twelve inches deep. When milk is being used to supply the protein, an average of from 12 to 15 pounds of grain should be fed each day for each 100 hens in the flock."

NOW Is the TIME to Repair Your Buildings

Buildings that are not given proper attention and necessary repairs made, depreciate much more rapidly than when kept in good repair. Repairs cannot be made successfully in bad weather and should be made during the summer months. Roofs should be painted, decayed boards replaced and buildings given a general overhauling before winter.

Why not construct that new concrete walk or cellar that you have been wanting, now. Paint the old house, it deserves it.

We carry a complete line of Lumber, Paints, Finishing Materials, Cement, Plaster, Lath, Roofing, Builders Hardware and all other materials necessary to repair buildings of all kinds.
